100 LANGUAGES OF US

Vires – K.Studio

I do not teach art traditionally. I do not provide a one way approach to exchanging knowledge with people. We get together for observing, understanding and sharing achievements in our experiments. This "potluck" teaching style enlightens a range of ideas for teachers, parents and art lovers. Giving and empowering community in art and creativity is my contribution to nourish 100 languages of human-kind.
